VIRTUAL WAR IS ON IN CHINA AS TROOPS MOVE UP

Only Technicality Stands Before Actual Break Between Nations

SHOCK TROOPS TO OPPOSE CHINESE

Nationalists Refuse To Heed Ultimatum; Powers Watching Closely

Tokio, May 9.—The Japanese war office is making preparations for the mobilization of 50,000 "shock" troops for service in China, it was learned today.

This was taken to indicate that the government anticipates that the situation in China will not be ended by the Tsinan incident, which has resulted in a virtual state of war between Japan and the Nationalist Chinese army, under the leadership of Gen. Chiang Kai Shek.

It was also learned today that two additional divisions of Japanese troops are ready to embark for China at a moment's notice.

Deny Implications

London, May 9.—The Japanese government today denied that troops were being dispatched to China for the purpose of occupying the area about the Shantung-railroad, part of which runs from Tsing-tao to Tsinan according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokyo.

The government stated, according to the dispatch, that its sole object in dispatching troops to that region was for the purpose of protecting Japanese lives and property and maintaining communications.

Washington, May 9.—Only a technicality of international law stands today between the military reality of war and the diplomatic fiction of peace in the Orient.

Neither China nor Japan has formally declared war but 70,000 troops of the two powers are in and enroute to the Tsinan zone which has already reported casualties on both sides.

Unconcealed defiance by the Chinese Nationalist troops of the 24-hour Japanese ultimatum demanding withdrawal from the vital Tsinan area has left the armed forces of the two nations sole arbiters of the gravest crisis in China since the days of the Boxer uprisings, more than a quarter of a century ago.

Japs Control Communications

A new Japanese division of 16,000 troops is enroute from Nagoya, Japan, to Tsingtau, key port of Shantung province, in which approximately 10,000 troops of Nippon already are in service.

WHEAT CROP IN OHIO FAILURE, TRUAX STATES

Farm Relief Is Urgently Needed, Director Says In His Speech

Worthington, May 9.—"The almost complete failure of the wheat crop will drive down the total value of Ohio farm crops for 1928 to the lowest point since 1879," Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax, said in an address to the chamber of commerce last night.

"This deplorable condition speaks eloquently for the urgent need of farm relief," he continued.

In 1927, Truax said, the total value of Ohio crops was $218,000,000. In 1928, the director of agriculture declared, the total value will go below the $200,000,000 mark, a loss of some $287,000,000 as compared with the 1919 valuation.

"The farmer now is forced to sell his products at world prices and supply his own needs in the protected markets. The farmer must gamble with the weather, unlike the manufacturer, he cannot determine his production program far in advance nor determine the cost of production because the season determines the yield and the yield the cost," Truax declared.

"In Ohio 2,324,000 acres were sown in wheat last fall," the director pointed out. "The entire cost of preparing seed bed, fertilizer, and seed for this large acreage must now be charged against the small acreage of 767,000 acres that will be harvested."

"Wheat is now selling at $2 a bushel, but the Ohio farmer does not benefit thereby since only 15 per cent of the 1927 crop is left on the farm."

"The McNary-Haugen bill would equalize the lean years with the surplus years, practically insuring the farmer against crop failures," Truax concluded.

COST OF LIVING IS DECREASING, REPORT SHOWS

Manufacturers say Wages Are Comparatively High In Nation

UNEMPLOYMENT DISAPPEARING

Food and Clothing Are Said To Be Cheaper; Dollar Value Up

New York, May 9.—Business conditions in the United States have shown improvement since the first of the year, particularly in the automobile, steel and building industries, according to monthly reports received by the National Industrial Conference Board from 2,000 manufacturers.

Living costs are declining, wages remain comparatively high, unemployment is disappearing and the purchasing power of the dollar is higher today than it has been for nearly five years, the board reports. The board is maintained by 30 national and state organizations for the purpose of exchanging information and experience.

Food, rent and clothing are cheaper. The people are living better; they have more luxuries. Saving banks are doing prosperous business. Savings in banks, Building and Loan association assets and life insurance premiums paid showed an increase in 1927 of 223 per cent per capita of population over 1914.

Food Costs Decline

Measured by average living costs, the dollar is worth, on the basis of living costs in March, this year, 62.1 cents in comparison with the pre-war dollar of July, 1914. It was lowest in July, 1920, when its buying power was 48.9 in comparison with the pre-war buying power.

The cost of living, according to the board's figures, is today at the lowest point since June, 1923, when it was about the present level. There has been a net decline in living costs of 21.2 per cent since July, 1920, the peak of the post-war inflation period. This decline has been steady in 1926 and 1927.

Rent and food have come down appreciably. Retail food prices were 31.1 per cent lower in March this year than in July 1920 and about 5 1/2 per cent lower than in March 1926. Rents, for the country as a whole, averaged 11.3 per cent lower than their 1924 peak and 6.8 per cent lower than in March last year.

Clothing prices today average a net decline of about 40 per cent from their peak in April 1920. Coal prices averaged last winter 20 per cent less than at their peak in November 1920. Gas and electricity have decreased 21 per cent since 1921.

Wages, however, are still high. The average wage for manufacturing workers was 113 per cent higher in March this year than in July 1914. The average wage for non-manufacturing workers was 108 per cent higher.

These were the only teachers in the year who were not applicants for positions with the Salem schools next year.

BRAKEMAN DEAD IN TRAIN CRASH

Several Trainmen Hurt At Massillon When Two Freights Meet

Massillon May 9.—Joseph M. Urbanoski of Lorain, a brakeman, was fatally scalped, and several trainmen were slightly bruised when a Pennsylvania freight train collided with a Baltimore & Ohio freight near here today.

Urbanoski, who died shortly after being removed to a hospital, was riding on the locomotive of the Baltimore & Ohio train and steam from a broken pipe, caused by the jar of the collision poured over him before he could leap to safety.

Both railroads use the same tracks where the wreck occurred. Each train was travelling at a low rate of speed at the time of the collision it was said. No cars were derailed.

Darrow In Action In Monsene Trial As Testimony Opens

Jefferson, O., May 9.—With the presentation of testimony at the trial of James Monsene, alleged Warren, Ohio, liquor baron, charged with attempted bribery, Ashland county today was given its first view of Clarence Darrow, famous Chicago attorney, defending Monsene, in real action.

The county has been more or less agog over the prospect of seeing the grizzled old veteran go through his paces and the courtroom has been crowded daily.

The jury was completed yesterday and taken to Warren to view the county jail and home of Sheriff Jack H. Smith, where Monsene is alleged to have offered Sheriff Smith $500.

Both bodies were strapped to the plane, which was recovered from 40 feet of water. The bodies were located late yesterday by divers who had been working for two days in an effort to find the plane.

Plans for the decorations are already completed by Miss Whitney and her committee, and the complete program will be ready soon.

Over 300 members of the association are expected at this year's banquet.

HOOVER'S RACE COSTS HIM NIL Hasn't Contributed Yet To Campaign He Says On Stand Today

Washington, May 9.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover told the senate's presidential campaign funds committee today that he personally has spent nothing in his race for the Republican nomination. He was asked to tell about his expenditure and the "scope of his campaign."

"On the expenditure side, I have had no personal expenditures with the exception perhaps of telephone calls and other odds and ends," said Hoover. "I have made no personal contribution to the campaign."

Hoover said a committee headed by ex-Rep. James Good, of Iowa, had charge of his campaign. Ten candidates have been examined thus far in the inquiry and after Hoover is heard, the committee will take the testimony of Senator James E. Watson (R) of Indiana, former Senator Alton Pomerene (D) of Ohio; former Gov. Frank O. Lowden (R) of Illinois; and Gov. Alfred E. Smith (D) of New York. The committee may go to New York city tomorrow to hear Smith, having set a precedent by visiting Baltimore yesterday to get the testimony of Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, told the committee last night he had spent but $1,500 in his campaign to date. He said he instructed his campaign managers to take no contributions from individuals or corporations interested in legislation.

Chicago, May 9.—An unidentified highwayman was shot and killed early today in a gun battle with police. He was the third bandit to be slain here during the past 24 hours.

Two were killed by officers of the law; the third was "taken for a ride" by underworld friends whom he is believed to have double-crossed.

The latest victim was shot down by three motorcycle patrolmen a few minutes after he and a companion had held up a "Gold Coast" street car and robbed the conductor of $10 in receipts.

That was at dawn this morning. Late last night a detective bureau squad surprised a bandit in the act of holding up a man under a roadside elevated structure. Cornered, the bandit opened fire but was killed in the exchange of shots. He was partially identified as L. E. Zimmerman, 28.

There were no marks of identification found on the street car bandit. The other to die was Willie Jackson, fugitive Grand Trunk mail robber, whose body was found in an alley yesterday morning. He is believed to have been killed by gangsters.

All police involved in the bandit killings escaped injury.

Members of the Columbiana County Motor club from all parts of the county are expected to attend this rally. The date will be fixed soon, but it is not likely to be before the middle of June. Col. Wilson spoke at a similar meeting held in Wellsville in February.

Both Sides Find Solace In Outcome of Indiana Primary

Washington, May 9.—Both sides managed to extract some degree of satisfaction today out of Indiana's hectic primary election, which saw Herbert Hoover's presidential aspirations receive their first major setback of the pre-convention season.

Incomplete returns, supplemented by private advices reaching Washington, indicate that Senator James E. Watson carried the state by a small but substantial margin of around 20,000 votes, and thus acquired Indiana's 33 delegates to the Kansas City convention.

The Indiana contest was hailed as the first real test of Hoover strength in pivotal and doubtful territory. Before the balloting, the Hoover managers had asserted that if Hoover carried the state "it would be all over but the shouting" and conversely, the anti-Hoover "allies" had asserted that if Hoover were stopped in Indiana, "he will be stopped at Kansas City."

The Hoover managers had been confident of repeating their Ohio victory in Indiana, and they were sorely disappointed today as the slowly trickling returns pointed to Watson's victory.

Even the refusal of Hoover's Indiana manager to concede the defeat did not console them much. However, they masked their disappointment somewhat by pointing to the closeness of the contest, and stressing the magnitude of the task which Hoover staked out for himself when he tried to bet such an efficient machine as the Watson organization on its home grounds.

They extract considerable satisfaction, too, out of the fact that Hoover clearly carried some of the (Continued on Page 4)

POLICE GUARDING RUSSIAN AFTER VERBAL ATTACK

Dr. Milyukof Keeps Right On Speaking At Peace Meet In Cleveland

Cleveland, May 9.—War should be renounced as an instrument of national policy and settlement of international disputes by Pacifist methods should be sought.

This was the substance of a resolution adopted today by the commission of the international implications of justice, one of the investigating bodies of the American Peace society, now celebrating its centennial here.

Cleveland, May 9.—Dr. Paul Milyukof, former Russian foreign minister, and delegate to the American Peace society conference, was accorded a police body guard here today for fear of bodily attacks as a result of hecklers interruptions during Milyukof's speech at Masonic auditorium last night.

Nineteen persons were taken to prison from the hall, five of the number being held for court.

Dr. Milyukof declared the verbal barrage did not bother him as "it occurs wherever I speak."

RURAL SECTIONS BLOW TO HOOVER

He Sweeps Cities But Country Districts Are For Senator

BULLETIN

Indianapolis, May 9.—United States Senator James E. Watson was steadily increasing his lead over Herbert Hoover for Indiana's 33 votes for president as returns from yesterday's primary election were compiled this afternoon.

Unofficial returns from 2,320 of the state's 3,610 precincts gave Watson 135,790 votes and Hoover 121,688.

Indianapolis, May 9.—Oscar G. Foellinger, Indiana manager of Herbert Hoover's candidacy for the Republican nomination for president today refused to concede that United States Senator James E. Watson had defeated Hoover in the Indiana primary election yesterday.

"The returns from a number of Hoover strongholds are very incomplete and Hoover is only a little behind Watson at present," Foellinger said.

Foellinger pointed out that returns from Delaware, Madison and Lake counties, admittedly Hoover districts, were far from complete.

Hoover's headquarters staff was cheered when returns came in from 55 of the 269 precincts in Indianapolis giving Hoover 4,796 votes and Watson 4,250.

Indianapolis, May 9.—United States Senator James E. Watson apparently has defeated Herbert Hoover for Indiana's presidential endorsement on the basis of unofficial returns received today from nearly two-thirds of the state's 3,610 precincts in yesterday's primary election.

Reports received early today from 2,040 precincts gave Senator Watson a lead of about 8,000 votes over the secretary of commerce.

The totals were: Watson, 103,466; Hoover, 95,048.

53 PUPILS IN SCHOOL'S PLAY

Junior High Will Present "Peddler of Hearts" Make Own Effects

Fifty-three students of Junior High school will make up the cast of the play, "The Peddler of Hearts" which will be given by the school at the High school auditorium Thursday and Friday, May 17 and 18.

The production of the play is unique in that all of the work in its connection is done by the students, with the exception of the costumes, which is by the parents of the cast.

Boys of the manual training classes are making the stage effects, rustic benches, booths, and chairs, and the girls are making the stage decorations, flowers and flower wreaths also used by members of the cast.

The advertising is also being done by the students. Art students have drawn posters which have been placed about the city.

Proceeds of the play will be turned over to the library fund and books and reference material will be purchased.

The play "The Peddler of Hearts" was recently chosen by a group of authors as the type of play most suitable for production by pupils of Junior High school age.

What Others Say

"INTREPID FRENCHMAN"

A hero too seldom recalled for the great work he did for America in the revolution stalked across the news pages a few days ago when the heart of Admiral de Grasse was ceremoniously placed beside the body of his wife at Tilly, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick made the address of the day, reviewing the service performed by the Frenchman who scattered the British fleet off Cape Henry, permitting Washington and Rochambeau to squeeze Cornwallis into his fatal corner.

In the ancient chateau of de Grasse, the home of his ancestors and of himself near Paris, is now conducted an orphanage where gardening and agriculture are taught, particularly to the children left homeless and fatherless by the late war. Herrick and Marshal Foch are vice presidents of the institution, the excellent quality of whose work is attested by the Cleveland man.

Americans are familiar with the services rendered their infant country by such Frenchmen as LaFayette and Rochambeau, but the work of de Grasse has too often passed unnoticed. Yet Washington told the admiral that the honor for the surrender at Yorktown belonged to him. It was de Grasse who, with orders from his government, borrowed troops from the islands, persuaded society women to pawn their jewels to finance his venture and sailed to intercept the British fleet which had been sent down from New York to succor Cornwallis. Accomplishing the task, de Grasse went back south, returned his borrowed soldiers and then, as it were, stepped out of history.

The sentiment that sustained the revolution was at lowest ebb when de Grasse sailed gallantly to the rescue; he turned despair to quick victory. The "intrepid Frenchman," as his enemies called him, well merits everything said of him at Tilly.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARIES

While California Republicans were voting Tuesday, overwhelmingly, indeed unanimously, for Herbert Hoover, as the state's favorite son, for the presidential nomination, the Democrats of the state gave their endorsement to Gov. Smith of New York by a heavy majority. There was no Golden State Democrat in the field. Gov. Smith's name was opposed by Senators Reed of Missouri, and Walsh of Montana, and both were defeated in the primary by large margins. The California delegation at Houston will vote for Smith.

This primary has been regarded as a test of strength. If either Reed or Walsh should gain the delegation the Smith boom would be checked. But the result shows that the "field" against the Democratic favorite for the nomination was not only divided, but that altogether its strength was not as great as that of Smith.

Comparison of the total votes cast by the two parties is significant. There is evidently little chance of California, if Hoover is nominated, failing to cast its electoral vote for him in November. And yet the Hoover vote yesterday was not the full Republican strength in the state for the reason that there was no contest in the Republican primary and consequently no particular reason for a heavy registration of preferences.

The casting of this vote for Hoover in California has no especial significance as regards the nomination prospect, for the state's delegation was conceded to him. Nevertheless the impressive size of the ballot in an uncontested primary is calculated to hearten his supporters and to give them an additional "selling argument" in their campaign work during the coming month.—Washington Star.

SOMEBODY PAYS

The postal rate reduction now contemplated by congress in the Grist bill goes a short distance in the right direction, but it does not go far enough. House, senate and the administration seem agreed that cuts more drastic than those provided in the Grist bill can not be made, because the postoffice department already is running its business at an annual loss.

Which leads the New York World to offer a suggestion that is worthy of careful consideration at Washington. The postal deficit is largely piled up by the free carriage of tons and tons of franked mail matter emanating from the various government departments and from the offices of members of congress.

Why not suggest the World, do away altogether with the practice, as old as the postal service, of franking government mail? Instead of charging the cost of this free service up to the postoffice department, why not charge it up to the agencies of government that call for free service? Instead of assessing a bill that should be met by the general public against the heavy users of the postal service, why not assess this bill against the nation as a whole?

Well, why not? Until something like this is done, nobody can tell whether the postoffice department is making or losing money on the paid portion of its business.—Minneapolis Journal.

Boston—Now comes an iconoclast to indicate the first "flight" in the United States was a "hoax." Since 1757 John Childs has been credited with having climbed in a glider about the steeple of the Old North church, landing on the shore of the Charles river. Now Otis Rice, assistant to the archdeacon of the church, suggests that what Childs actually did was cast down a rope and pulley.

Kansas City—Republican pickets should be safe during the convention. Fourteen cities will send experts to assist Kansas City detectives.

BRAINSTORM ONLY A MENTAL DISEASE

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner Health, New York City

All the acquired mental diseases of youth are grouped under a general name. The particular condition I have in mind rarely attacks a person past 25. I refer to what the doctors call "dementia praecox."

It is a sad thing to find a young person who has been well and cheerful and normal in his mental processes, suddenly develop unusual and disturbing symptoms. The things which made him happy suddenly appear to irritate him. A heretofore peaceful and calm individual develops "brain storms." In an attack he breaks the furniture, swears and acts like a demon.

It is bad enough for one to die after a long lifetime of usefulness, but to die in youth seems a terrible fate. Any form of hopeless disease or insanity attacking the young moves us more than a similar misfortune met by the aged.

Dementia praecox is an abnormal mental state associated with the developing period of life. It is characterized by acquired weakness of the mental processes and by many perverted ideas. In alternation with the times of overstimulation of the brain, are periods of depression and sadness. There is

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of May 9, 1908)

East Liverpool—Three men drowned and three more barely escaped with their lives is the record of a yachting accident on the Ohio river here last night.

Leotonia—The Leotonia board of education has unanimously re-elected Prof. J. W. Moore superintendent of the Leotonia public schools for another term of three years. Prof. Moore has served in this capacity for 17 years.

Fifty-five charter members have been secured for the new granite southwest of town. H. A. Halverstadt, of Leotonia, state granite deputy, is assisting with the organization.

Barnesville, O., is making preparation for celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of that town. An entire week will be devoted to the festivities.

Our Brothers, manufacturers of the national steel re-inforced waterproof cement burial vault, who recently located in the Forde Light building, have commenced work on the manufacture of vaults.

Cleveland—One hundred and fifty motormen and conductors on the Cleveland & Southwestern electric line threaten to strike if uniform wages are not paid over the entire road.

Henry F. Harris, a former Columbiana county newspaper man, is now publisher of two Indiana papers.

Friends of Mrs. Mabel Burrows, of Oakland, Calif., formerly Miss Mabel Garrigue, of Salem, have been advised that she is recovering from a critical illness.

F. Lease went to Lisbon Saturday to meet with the directors of the Columbiana county fair.

Mrs. Emma Whiteleather died early Saturday morning at her home on Race st.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis, Walnut st., a daughter.

mental alertness one day and great confusion of mind the next.

In dementia praecox it is not unusual for the victim to recite over and over, one single line of poetry. He may keep this up for hours. He performs the same act repeatedly.

A young person may be one of the most cleanly and well groomed of your acquaintances. Suddenly he becomes careless. He is negligent in his person and clothing. He is sloppy in his actions. This raises the suspicion of dementia praecox.

I have told you that this disease is acquired. The feeble-minded youth has always been weak-minded. But the victim of the trouble we are considering was formerly bright and normal. The history indicates the difference between the two disturbances.

The onset may be sudden. Shock, fright or prostration, due to bodily or mental causes, may be followed by this disability. In other cases it is gradual in its onset and the course is progressive.

The acute and sudden type is the more hopeful of cure. It may take time to accomplish it, but recovery comes. The slow type is more serious.

The outcome of the case depends on the cause. If there is some underlying and removable physical disability, the case is most favorable. Sometimes there has been long illness or overwork. Recovery of strength and vigor brings mental relief.

The recent advances in this field have made us more hopeful in such cases. They must be studied with particular reference to localized infection in teeth, tonsils, large intestines or other parts of the body. When the underlying physical disorder is found, recovery follows its removal.

There must be careful examination of the blood and all the secretions. Until every test has been made no reliable estimate of the probabilities of cure can be attempted.

Rest in bed, proper nourishment, baths, massages and change of scene are important. More important still to find the fundamental physical trouble and to get rid of this.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, May 10.
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

A LIVELY and interesting day is forecast from the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects, especially for those in the employment of others and for those having hopes from those in places of power. It is time to approach these for favors or advancement, if qualified by diligence and perseverance. Labor should bring reward but the financial outlook for protection. Speculation, although the probabilities will be toward action. Personal affairs may assume sensational angles.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of advancement or preferment if in the employment of others or if seeking favors or honors from those in authority. Diligence and application may expect recognition. Finances should not be jeopardized. Personal affairs may assume sensational or unconventional angles. A child born in this day should be talented, capable and diligent and should succeed well in employment or in places of trust.

A time will come when all will know just why the storms and breezes blow.—Beers.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?
—A Famous Authority's Rule
By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in ever thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses. Adv.

Portland Reporter Knows Walt Now

Portland, Ore., May 8.—"Call 'Walt' at Beach 6829 at 6.30 o'clock tonight."

This number and instruction was given to a reporter of a local paper by another member of the staff who had received it over the phone. The number was unfamiliar but "strange" phone numbers are common to reporters.

At 6.30 the reporter called the number. A feminine voice answered the phone.

"Hello, is Walt there?" There was a slight hesitation, and then the answer:

"Yes, I'll call him." Presently a dignified and resonant voice answered.

"Hello! Walt! This is so-and-so at the office. Were you calling me?" the reporter asked.

"I don't think so," Walt replied. "However, I like to hear my first name once in a while—this is Bishop Sumner!"

SMITH BACKERS JUMP INTO LEAD

Alabama Primary Results Show A's Supporters Ahead of Opponents

Birmingham, Ala., May 9.—Walter Moore, supporter of Governor Al Smith for the Democratic presidential nomination, swung into the lead today over his opponent, Watt Brown, for Democratic national committee, returns from 21 counties in Alabama's primary election showed today.

Another Smith supporter, Mayor William A. Gunther of Montgomery, climbed into fourth place for one of the four delegates-at-large posts, replacing T. S. Faulk, an anti-Smith man.

A. H. Carmichael, Borden Burr and Harry M. Ayers, were in the lead for three other delegates-at-large. They are considered anti-Smith.

POLICE

resume meetings during the day. The reports of these commissions, due Friday, are being awaited with great interest.

The sixth general assembly of the conference on international justice was to be held at 3 p. m. to be addressed by Dr. Jesse H. Holmes, professor of philosophy, Swarthmore college; Dr. Elizabeth Wallace, professor of languages, Chicago university and Senor Don Orsini Ferrara, Cuba's ambassador to the United States.

The seventh general assembly will be held tonight with scheduled addresses by A. C. Klumpp, former president of Rotary International; Senor Dr. Don Alejandro Cesar, Nicaragua's minister to the United States; Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's minister to the United States and Cosme De La Torre, former ambassador from Cuba to Spain and to the United States.

Chaplain Has Plan
During the fifth general assembly sessions here last night, hecklers frequently interrupted the speech of Dr. Paul Milyukof and it was necessary to elect 13 men and six women when the increasing din drowned out Chairman Theodore E. Burton's gavel.

Milyukof denounced the present Russian government and calmly finished his address despite the uproar.

Rev. Dr. Gill Robb Wilson, national chaplain of the American Legion, speaking before last night's assembly, advocated use of part of the money received by the United States on its foreign debts to establish scholarships in America for students in other lands, as a means for promoting international friendship.

Linley V. Gordon, executive secretary of the Church Peace union, denounced "those who pay lip service to peace while advocating armaments in behalf of 'national defense'."

In a plea for the outlawry of war, Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Ohio supreme court, traced the rise of the conception that the war-making power belongs to the people and not to kings. She urged that nations observe the "Ten Commandments."

Judge Allen praised the Kellogg treaties and declared that while the "Kellogg proposal may not be accepted verbatim by the great powers, its mere statement constitutes an amazing advance toward the establishment of world peace."

WATSON

terminated in state conventions, for the party vote was so split between the record number of 17 candidates that none this morning had the necessary majority in the primary struggle.

The strength of Frederick Landis, a part editor, was the biggest surprise of the gubernatorial contest. He was running second only to Secretary of State Frederick E. Schortemeier, the organization man with Thomas H. Adams, crusading Vincennes publisher, third.

Hoover swept the industrial district of northern Indiana, but was halted as he reached the agricultural plains of central and southern Indiana.

Hoover apparently has carried the following counties:

Allen, Elkhart, Grant, Howard, Huntington, Lake, LaPorte, St. Joseph, Wayne and Wabash.

Under Nease Majority

Watson was leading in the following counties:

Carroll, Clay, Daviess, Decatur, Fulton, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Henry, Jefferson, Lawrence, Marshall, Miami, Monroe, Morgan, Parke, Perry, Posey, Pulaski, Putnam, Randolph, Rush, Shelby, Starke, Tippecanoe, Vanderburgh, Vermillion, White and Whitley.

Although Frank C. Dalley, prosecutor of Truman H. Newberry, was far in the lead in the Democratic race for governor, he had not established a majority. Next in order were John E. Frederick, Kokomo steel manufacturer, and Earl H. Crawford, Indiana farm bureau federation official.

Dry Candidate Arrested

Kokomo, Ind., May 9.—This city was "shocked" today over the arrest of Olin R. Holt, prominent attorney and candidate in yesterday's primary election for governor. He was charged with "public intoxication."

Holt was endorsed as an out-gunning dry by the local W. C. T. U. recently and by Dr. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. He was arrested in an alley last night where according to police, he was staggering around "blind drunk."

It is not yet known how Holt fared in the primary. He is one of the attorneys who represented F. C. Stephenson, imprisoned former grand dragon of the Indiana K. Klux Klan.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

She "De-Bunks" the Dictates of Fashion.

REALLY, it is to laugh. The other day I glanced over a booklet sent out by several of the famous couturiers of Paris. It was designed to end all fashion woes and state just what is what for the season. This is what I gathered from a sketchy perusal:

That the keynote of the season is simplicity.

That the keynote of the season is elaboration.

That there is great variety in the different modes.

That there is great similarity in the different modes.

Which, of course, made it quite plain, and leads me to remark that we fashion people are "the bunk"—if you excuse my lack of French.

We merely state what's new, after all it's up to the customer to make the selection—or it should be.

You may argue what about those who don't "know" what to wear? I reply that there are a few. The only women who don't know what to wear are those who've never thought about it. Every woman can help but see at some time or other the styles displayed around here. They may at times not register on her consciousness, but she sees them and reacts favorably or unfavorably to them.

Which brings up to Mrs. Matthews. She's the type that professes not to know what she can wear.

Merely to prove my point I showed her several models—some absolutely suited to her. As I expected, she gravitated naturally to the one that was her type. Her selection was excellent: a brilliant blue tulle evening gown, with molded hip-line, irregular hem and an ingenious décolletage.

No, you can't convince me that there are women who don't "know" what to wear.

Simple Evening Dress of Brilliant Blue Tulle.

BOTH SIDES

On the other hand, "the allies," as the anti-Hoover coalition is called in Washington, were openly and enthusiastically jubilant. While they were somewhat impressed by the size of the Hoover vote, they nevertheless repeated their pre-election statement that "Hoover can be stopped at Kansas City."

The Hoover defeat was particularly gratifying to the grain belt representatives, nearly all of whom are opposed to him. They have always accused Hoover of fixing the wartime price of wheat and they have always attributed President Coolidge's opposition to the McNary-Haugen bill as due in no small measure to Hoover's counsel. Watson on the other hand was one of the framers of the bill and led the senate fight for it.

Consequently, with the apparent defeat of Hoover in Indiana due solely to the rural vote, they renewed their assertions today that Hoover is unpopular in the farming regions which are necessary to a Republican victory next November.

Markets

PRICES IRREGULAR
New York, May 9.—Stock prices were irregular at the opening of the market today. The oils were somewhat easier, with Standard Oil of New Jersey down 1/4 at 44 1/4 and Standard Oil of New York down 1/2 at 36 1/2. U. S. Steel opened at 14 1/2, down 1/2, while Woolworth advanced 1 to 194 1/2. General Electric at 170 1/2 was down 1/2. Hupp Motor sold at 56, up 1/2, while Nash and Studebaker were each lower by 1/2 at 91 1/2 and 67 1/2, respectively.

The reactionary price movement in the industrial stocks was continued in the early trading today. Speculative leaders like Radio and General Motors fell back a few points in the first hour, and even the high grade rails, which started the day at slightly higher prices, were unable to move upward.

President Alfred Sloan of General Motors corporation threw further light on the strong financial position of the company and for this reason an extra dividend was looked for by those who have been following developments in the company.

Selling of New Haven in quarters resulted in a decline of nearly 3 points for the stock. Delaware & Hudson declined 4 points to 207 1/2. New York Central and Frisco common moved against the trend, and prospects of higher dividends stimulated an active demand for these stocks. Southern Pacific jumped 3 points to around 130, and Reading continued to display conspicuous strength.

The weight of profit-taking fell heavily on a number of the industrial, motor and specialty stocks. The airplane stocks lost about 2 points each and recessions in the low-priced motors extended from a fraction to a full point.

There was no sign of relaxation in the money market and the renewal call rate was posted at 6 per cent. The Japanese Yen lost an additional 55 points, to sell at the year's low of 45 3/4 cents to the Yen, following reports of a serious clash between Chinese and Japanese armed forces. Today's quotations are about a cent lower than yesterday's high.

Cotton sold off about 50 cents a bale in the early trading, and grain prices opened slightly lower. Crude rubber was steady in a slow market.

CHICAGO LOOP TEXT BOOK FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE

Real Life Will Be Only
"Library" In New College Life

Chicago, May 9.—The busy, vibrating heart of Chicago's business district will be the textbook for a new course in social sciences at the University of Chicago, according to an announcement by Rowland Haynes, secretary of the university. "Textbooks are poor sources for knowing life," Haynes said in announcing the new course.

"In the past universities have assumed the 'know-it-all' attitude about everything from meat packing to astronomy, and with too little basis of actual experience."

"When our new social sciences building at the University of Chicago is completed, it will be without a library. We have learned, at least, that downtown, in the loop district, is the laboratory for learning business and the behavior of people."

"We propose to study facts instead of books, people instead of pages, life instead of lessons."

Fount of Knowledge

"The so-called social sciences are the real fundamentals of business, history, economics, political science and sociology deal in the very life-blood of industry and commerce, and we propose to go direct to the fount of knowledge in studying those subjects. Texts will be used of course, for reference, but the study will be of the busy stream of life that flows through the heart of Chicago."

"Humanity is and always will be the most vital element in any study and we have humanity in all its phases, passing through the loop. Every problem that could be imagined comes up every day in the close packed markets of barter and trade that make up the business district."

Chicago has led all other cities in the country, during the past few years, in developing a new avenue into business, Haynes said.

"Co-operation between business men and university officials has developed the new practice, which has shed its garb of pedantry," the secretary pointed out. "The result of that co-operation has been a broadening of the university. Educators have come to realize that no one department is sufficient for a study of social problems, and that social problems are one of the most important studies for universities."

"All departments of the institution are now co-operating to help solve the myriad problems that arise."

New Co-operation
This new co-operation, Haynes said, has been shown by establishment of three new branches of the University of Chicago. They are the institute of meat packing, the bureau of business research and the school of commerce and illustration.

Problems in banking, or problems in ethics can be studied with equal ease in the loop, educators of the university believe. Such questions as "Should Women Work?" or "Should Married Woman Help Support the Family?" or "Are the Living Standards of the Nation Becoming Lower?" questions in which sociology and business are entwined would be readily available for study to the students, and the answers they found would be of value to business, Haynes said.

"Chicago is just coming of age in social sciences, for it has reached the stage of trying to learn exactly what is true."

"When scientists experiment, they are entering the greatest stage of evolution in the study of social sciences. They are proving for themselves the truth or fallacy of maxims that have been accepted for years, and they are working out laws of vital aid to business."

FERRY BOAT OF RIVER STYX IN ANCIENT GRAVE

Joint Expedition Being Made to Uncover
This Ship

Jerusalem, May 9.—Ferry boats to carry the dead across the water separating this world from the next were put in the graves of ancient Sumarians, on whose life four thousands years before the present era much light is being thrown by the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania Museum at Ur of the Chaldeans.

Two more royal tombs dating back to the fourth millennium B. C. were found. The tombs were plundered by grave-robbing in antiquity and were found in greatest confusion, the thieves leaving just enough for C. Leonard Wooley and his assistants to go by in judging the elaborate burial of royalty and the human sacrifice accompanying it.

Against the foot of one of the graves built in a pit with a roofed stone chamber and an arched doorway were found 11 bodies of women wearing rich head-dresses of gold lapis and cornelian. More bodies of men and women not so elaborately adorned were strewn over the rest of the floor.

Heavy Wagons

Two heavy wooden four-wheeled wagons, each drawn by three oxen stood in front, the animals wearing silver rings in their muzzles, silver collars decorated with eye ornaments, reins of silver and lapis. Two ranks of soldiers of the guard keeping the entrance, were also traced with their copper helmets on their skulls, their spears by their sides.

An unplundered tomb of a queen named "Sdub-ad" was the richest of the finds. There were two crowns one a composite of gold ribbons, beads, heavy gold rings which hung across the forehead, mulberry leaves and willow leaves of gold and gold rosettes with inlaid petals of shell and lapis. Above the top of the head rose a tall ornament of gold with seven points ending in gold flowers. The other crown was of gold and lapis beads, decorated with little figures of stags, bulls, rams, and antelopes, with ears of corn in flowers with bunches of pomegranates all of gold.

Ten Gold Rings

She wore ten gold finger rings, necklaces, amulets of lapis and gold in the form of a fish, a calf and iv antelopes, and a cloak entirely covered with beads and fastened by big gold pins to which were attached lapis cylinder seals. With the body were placed three bowls and a strainer of gold, a pair of gold cockle shell, and a silver pair, these containing toilet paints, gold earrings, quantities of silver vessels including a set of 18 fluted tumblers, some 30 stone vases, and copper vessels innumerable. A silver bull's head with long horns came from a statue.

In the king's chamber a few objects overlooked by the grave-robbing came to light as the excavations began, including a frontlet of gold chains and lapis beads. There was a very fine hunting board set on silver, with all its squares made of shell plaques engraved with animal scenes and colored in red and black, and against the wall buried in the fallen stones, but yet miraculously preserved, was a silver model two feet long of a rowing boat with oars and awning.

Like the Egyptians, the ancient Sumarians believed that the dead must cross the water separating this world from the next, and the ferry boat was commonly placed in the grave for the man's use. The thieves who broke into the tomb had not disturbed the rest of the grave area.

Ousted in Shakeup

Judge Francis X. McQuade, treasurer of the New York Giants Baseball Club, was ousted at a recent meeting in favor of Leo J. Bondy, attorney who represents the Stoneham interests. McQuade who has long been associated with National League baseball in New York threatens startling revelations as the result of this action. It is rumored that the change was made owing to disagreement over the recent Hornsby trade.

URGES TRAINMEN
ROUT THEORISTS

President Lee Warns That New-Fangled Ideas May Hurt the Union

Cleveland, May 9.—Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, meeting here, today had gone on record opposing "war" within certain bounds. As stated by William G. Lee, president, these bounds are:

"We are law abiding citizens, strenuously opposed to war, but if war is necessary to uphold our honor as an organization, then there certainly will be war."

President Lee, who has headed the brotherhood for 19 consecutive years, warned theorists with "new-fangled ideas" for the salvation of American labor, to "give wide berth to the working classes, especially railroad workers."

Continuing Lee told the delegates assembled for the triennial convention of the order, approximately 1,000 representing 185,000 railroad workers, that if the organization is ever wrecked, it will be because of convention action in adopting some of the wild ideas put out by certain people—so-called "saviors of the poor working class."

"No where in the world are wages and working conditions as favorable as in our own country," he added. "No where are working men and women as independent and well protected."

President Lee's keynote address was said by influential delegates to have been directed at those representing insurgency within the organization, hoping to forestall any radical change in policy which may be suggested later in the convention. This change to be advocated is believed to be the desire to join with other labor bodies in certain business projects, which in the past has been declined.

The trainmen's convention will last a month.

WILLIS LEADER CHARGES FRAUD

Request Governor Make Investigation In A Cincinnati Ward

Columbus, May 9.—Request that Gov. Vic Donahey arrange for a probe of alleged frauds at Cincinnati in connection with the presidential primaries held April 24, was contained in a letter received today at the governor's office from Mayor Robert L. Long, chairman of the service men's division. Willis for President club of Hamilton county.

Governor Donahey is in the south on a motor trip. Jacob Meckstroth, the governor's private secretary, also, was absent from the gubernatorial offices today. Other officials at the governor's office said nothing would be done today concerning Long's letter.

They were inclined to believe that the commutation will be referred to Secretary of State Clarence Brown, with Donahey and Meckstroth taking the position that the charges are matters which properly come under the jurisdiction of the secretary of state as head of the state election machinery.

Claims made in Long's letter, it was stated, included allegations that voters had moved to unknown addresses after registering, that voters credited with voting at the primaries died before the election was held; that voters who were said to have voted declared they did not vote, and that the names of various voters, who had properly registered, were inverted and counted again without any registration record.

The charges related, for the most part, of the 18th ward, Cincinnati, it was stated.

Urging the governor to request the attorney general to impanel a grand jury or to provide "such other means" as he deemed best, "to thoroughly investigate the subject matter," Long, it was stated, offered affidavits and alleged information designed to support the allegations of fraud.

MEHLHORN AND SARAZEN AHEAD

Wild Bill Shoots 71 In First Round of The British Open

Sandwich, May 9.—America's big five of its invading golf team shot the legs out from under the early finishers in the first round of the British open golf championship today. Bill Mehlhorn shooting a 35-36-71. Gene Sarazen a 35-37-72 and Walter Hagen a 38-37-75.

Mehlhorn and Sarazen thus placed themselves one-two in the early going with Hagen hovering in the first five.

Abc Mitchell, one of England's main dependencies, shot a 78 while the Americans were firing their competitive Roman candles.

The first round was started in the trough of a cold wave but the warm-blood of Sarazen didn't seem to mind the chilling draughts. He played only the sixth and ninth badly, taking three puts at the former and missing his approach at the latter. Except for untoward luck, Sarazen would have shaved his incoming figures by a stroke or two.

Salem High Faces Tough Battle For Victory Saturday

According to the dope for the county track meet to be held at Reilly field Saturday, Salem High will have its hardest struggle in years if the Big Red wishes to maintain its monopoly on county championships and keep the track title at home for the fourth successive year.

Several other schools boast a large array of tracksters to vie for the title with Salem.

The competition in all probability will be keen, but the fact remains that there is no school with an extraordinarily strong track and field aggregation in the county, according to past performance. Salem, losing much of its 1927 team, has been depending on underclassmen to come through to assist Allen, Roessler and Seeds, the only three seniors on the squad at present.

Palestine, Liverpool, Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia have one or two strong men each, but that is as far as the strength goes. Every school seems to be very weak in some department.

If the dope runs true, as it often does not, it will be the first meet in four years that Salem was even pressed. For three straight years the county competition was all Salem, a walk-away, but with the graduation of most of last year's stars and the failure of most of the embryo wonders to come through, the case is very much altered this year it seems.

Plenty of Vaulters
Salem's big bit of strength comes in the pole vault, where Keith Roessler and Lowell Allen are conceded first and second place without argument. Salem's strength in that event does not stop, though, with this pair as Coach Wilbur Springer has been working on Ralph Gregg, Hutchison and Ed Shilling all season, hoping to enter them and monopolize all four point places.

In Babe Pasco Salem has another almost certain point getter as Babe has been hurling the javelin 20 feet further than the best mark made by any other county athlete regularly. Ed Sidinger, last year's star javelinier along with Pasco has been rather negligent with practice and has failed to do much, but is counted on to break into the point column for Salem along with Pasco. He is working out every night this week in an attempt at a comeback.

Seeds and Litty, who will represent Salem in the hurdles will encounter plenty of tough going but should pull through with a first each. Seeds in the low sticks is capable of 27 seconds, anyhow, and this will at least place. He will also run the 100 yard dash. Litty will run both hurdles, and is counted upon seriously for a first in the high sticks.

Weak In Distance Runs
But Salem's big weakness comes in the distance runs, the shot put, discus, high jump, broad jump and dashes, where the youngsters have failed to establish their pre-season fame.

Van Campen ran a fairly good 880 at Pittsburgh, but Spano of Lisbon and Wagonhouse of Leetonia both have run better.

In the 440, Salem's chances are nil; ditto in the broad jump and mile, unless past performances are bettered.

Bill Smith and Van Blaricom do fairly well in the discus during practice but fail to connect with a good toss in a meet. John Terry and Chick Herbert will represent Salem in the shot put.

East Liverpool looks like the most formidable opponent to Salem's titular chances. Stop Elmer English, and Salem will win the meet, is the cry.

English is about the best track man in the county this season and just last Saturday broke "Chalk" Gaines' record of eight years ago in the 220 yard dash, being clocked in the unofficial fast time of 21.3-5 seconds. English also vaults and clicks the 100 in 10.3-5 seconds.

Kirkham claiming throws of 117 and the shot put, having two men able to put it over 37 feet.

Palestine, Lisbon, Leetonia, and Columbiana claim one or two outstanding men but have nothing extra to back it up. Palestine has a nice high hurdler in Hall, who won the event in the six-school meet at Palestine, Saturday in 17.5 seconds; a set of nice discus-throwers, capable of better than 100 feet, a good high jumper, pole vaulter and fair shot putter.

Only Two Lisbon Stars
Lisbon's stars are Bye and Spano, both runners, but lacks the team additional strength, as was shown by the overwhelming licking the team received from Salem in a practice meet. Spano and Bye, however, won the only first places Lisbon got in the meet. Bye defeating Litty and Seeds in the low hurdles. Spano runs the mile in around 5 minutes and the half around 2:10.

Wagonhouse, Leetonia, stepped the mile in the fastest time recorded so far in the county at Palestine Saturday, defeating Spano with yards to spare and was clocked in 4 minutes 55 seconds. Columbiana failed to get a first in the meet and collected 20 points via a flock of seconds, thirds and fourths. These, however, won't do in the county meet.

The big thing that all the schools are concentrating on is to get the title away from Salem. This idea of the Red and Black garnering title after title is getting monotonous and rather exasperating to the other schools and they are out after the Salem keep. Each school is trying to keep its best marks as secret as possible.

Salem has the best team, considering past performances again and comparing its records in the Tech meet and at Canton where only underclassmen were entered, with those made by the other schools, it should be Salem's fourth consecutive county championship after the meet points are totaled Saturday.

FIGHT RESULTS
At Los Angeles—Mike McGigue, former light-heavyweight champion, drew with Cowboy Willis (10).

At Youngstown, Ohio—Harry Blitman, Philadelphia, outpointed Billy Grime, Australian featherweight champion (12).

At New Haven, Conn.—Louis (Kid) Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., outpointed George Day, New Haven (10).

At Indianapolis—Paul Allen, Chicago, outpointed Jack Duffy, Toledo (10).

At Des Moines—Mike Mandell, St. Paul heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Charley Scherer, Detroit (5).

PIRATES STOP GIANTS' PACE

Cleveland Halts Yanks As Uhle Grants But Four Bingles

New York, May 9.—New York, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, the three leaders in the National League race, are only a few points apart this morning. The fast-stepping Pirates stopped the Giants and the Reds held on to second place by defeating Boston.

The American League scramble also tightened up when Roger Peckinpaugh, peer of former Yankee shortstops, came to New York with a Cleveland team that snapped the winning streak of the world's champions.

Burleigh Grimes, spitball pitcher who was traded to Pittsburgh by the Giants because he wasn't effective in the spring, pitched the Pirates to a 6 to 5 triumph over his former mates.

The eastern teams are having tough sledding in the west. Brooklyn has won but two games on the tour, Boston only one, and Philadelphia none.

Three hits by Johnny Butler, who couldn't hit while with Brooklyn, featured Chicago's 4 to 3 win over the Robins. Percy Jones, who would rather play ball than loaf on the $500,000 he inherited recently, out-pitched Jess Petty.

A burst of generosity on the part of Ed Brandt in the sixth inning, when he issued five passes, helped Cincinnati bury the Braves in a 7 to 2 landslide.

Six Phillies pitchers were man-handled by the St. Louis Cardinals to the tune of 15 to 4.

George Uhle seems to be about the only pitcher in the American League who has New York's number. He held the Yanks to four hits, and whitewashed them 3 to 0. It was Pennek's first defeat.

The Athletics advanced to within two games of the Yankees by noosing out the St. Louis Browns 4 to 3. Ed Rommel turned in his first victory.

Bob Fothergill, who has been adorning the Detroit bench most of the season, has started to hit and the Tigers are winning. Robust Robert slammed out two triples, a double and a single as the Bengals smothered the Senators, 12 to 2. The Tigers took fifth place away from the Nats.

The Boston Red Sox moved out of the cellar and the White Sox moved in when Ed Morris, Boston recruit from the Southern League, held the White Sox to four hits and trimmed them 5 to 1.

RISKO SHIES AT BOSTON GARDEN

Cleveland, May 9.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland's leading heavyweight challenger, will never meet Jack Sharkey in the latter's "own back yard," meaning Tex Rickard's new arena at Boston, according to Danny Dunn, the rubber man's manager.

Risko will fight Sharkey in the so-called revenge battle in New York, Cleveland, Chicago or Philadelphia, or not at all, Dunn emphatically declared, after receiving the Boston offer from Rickard. Personally Dunn wants the fight staged at Dunn field, home of the Cleveland Indians some time this summer. In the interim, Dunn is dickering with Herman Taylor of Philadelphia for a match between Risko and George Godfrey at Philadelphia in June.

Lancaster—Because he placed a butcher knife in his trousers with the blade up and then forgot it while leaning over to cut a beef, Charles Groff, Lancaster butcher, is in a hospital with a deep knife wound in his stomach. Physicians say he may recover.

Allen Breaks Vault Record In Practice

Lowell Allen broke his own record in the pole vault yesterday in a practice workout at Reilly field, clearing 13 feet two inches by actual measurement.

"Rib" national indoor champion in the vault, was in perfect form in the workout yesterday, clearing 13 feet and the new mark both on first attempts. He hopes to establish a new official world's record before the season is out.

Keith Roessler, his partner in vault fame, has also been clearing high marks consistently in practice.

"NO PLACE TO GO"

A night club in New York representing a jungle, where the dancers move amid big trees, dense foliage and upon a black floor is one of the novel scenes in "No Place To Go," the new First National Picture which will be the attraction at the State tonight.

Mervyn LeRoy, the director, infused into this scene all the imaginative possibilities that could be devised. It is a strongly contrasting sequence to that which depicts a real tropical scene in the South Sea Islands, where the story moves later and which involves and adventure with some real cannibals.

Mary Astor plays a flapper role and is featured with Lloyd Hughes. The two are sweethearts and a yachting trip takes them from the white lights to the romantic isles beneath the Southern Cross.

Hallam Cooley, Virginia Corbin, Myrtle Stedman, Jed Prouty and others are in the cast. The picture is claimed to be one of the breeziest bits of entertainment that has come this way.

AT THE GRAND

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, the inimitable comedy team, who have convulsed audiences throughout the world with their antics in "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now" are back once more in what has been acclaimed the funniest farce of their careers, "Firemen Save My Child," now at the Grand.

Tom Kennedy, who was their pet menace in their previous pictures, again makes life miserable for Beery and Hatton as the fire captain, Joseph Girard, who also appeared in the previous Beery-Hatton farces is the dignified fire chief, Josephine Dunn, petite, blonde, beautiful graduate of the Paramount Picture School, supplies the love interest with Walter Goss, another graduate of the school as the juvenile.

The "love triangle" is the basis for a great many screen dramas, but it fell to the lot of Josef Von Sternberg to develop a "love quadrangle" as a bombshell of human emotions. The quadrangle is a dramatic principle worked out in Ben Hecht's reaches the Grand Thursday.

One woman and three men are concerned—Evelyn Brent, George Bancroft, Olive Brook and Fred Kohler. Bancroft is a gang leader and Evelyn Brent his sweetheart. Fred Kohler, a rival gangster, has a mad desire for her. She, however, is drawn to Olive Brook.

The quadrangle proves even more destructive than the usual triangle. Kohler attempts to win Miss Brent by physical force and is shot down by Bancroft. Bancroft is arrested for the murder and this proves a solution for the love of the leading woman and Brook.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Quickly Cooked Meat Dishes

For the business woman small meat dishes are handy. The amount to be prepared is governed by the size of the family, but a quarter of a pound of meat is plenty. Two chops or a generous helping of other meat that is about equal to the chops is a good rule to go by. Second helpings are not supposed to be called for with vegetables and other things.

Breaded Lamb Chops

Buy six heavy rib chops for three people. Have the butcher skin and crack the bones. Take a sharp knife and cut the bones out of the chops neatly, then roll them and pin with a wooden toothpick. When ready to cook dip in beaten egg, roll in fresh soft crumbs, dust with pepper and salt, then put in a frying pan that has been rubbed with a cut bud of garlic, then heated, and a heaping tablespoonful of butter has been put in long enough to melt. Lay in the chops and turn the flame down to medium and cover closely. When the chops start to cook, turn them frequently. When ready to brown them give a little more heat.

A tomato sauce may be served or a gravy made in this way: Take the bones, a little celery, a minced onion and a pint of water, and cook until the meat comes off the bones, then strain, season, cool, remove the grease and set aside until ready to make the sauce. When the chops are done and lifted pour in the gravy, heat, season, thicken with roux, then strain into a hot gravy boat and serve with the chops. Sometimes a small can of tomatoes is added to the broth. Serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley.

Lamb's Hearts

Allow one heart to each person. Wash, trim and parboil the hearts in lightly salted water until tender, then remove, trim and slice in medium slices. Meantime, take a large can of tomatoes and add to them a minced onion, a half cupful of chopped celery, a half bay leaf, pepper, salt, a saltspoon of curry powder, and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Cook gently for a half hour, strain, add a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, thicken with roux and strain into a saucepan add the hearts and allow to remain just long enough to reheat them. Serve on a hot dish garnished with toast, sipets. The entire dish can be made in the morning and just be reheated, which will take about 15 minutes.

Chicken and Mushroom Ramekins
Chop enough cold boiled chicken to make two cupfuls. Peel, wipe and sauté in butter a quarter pound of mushrooms. Make a cupful and a half of cream sauce, rich but not too thick, add the chicken and halfmushrooms, a quarter cupful of dry crumbs, and two tablespoonfuls of browned or slightly salted almonds chopped, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of onion juice. Lightly fill well buttered ramekins, four large or six small ones, sprinkle a teaspoonful of seasoned crumbs over each and put a little lump of butter in the center. Bake long enough to heat through and brown delicately. These things may be fixed in the morning and only need baking 12 to 15 minutes when ready to get dinner.

Hamburg Toast

Four full-sized slices of bread cut medium. Trim off the crusts, toast one side only. Take a half pound of chopped steak and spread the untoasted sides of the slices a quarter of an inch deep with the steak, dust with pepper and salt, sprinkle generously with onion juice, dot with little lumps of butter, then put under the broiler. When delicately broiled serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley and toast, sipets. A horseradish sauce may be served with this dish if liked.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, May 9.—Let your blouse make rather than mar your costume, is Dame Fashion's latest edict to smart women now looking for the inevitable accompaniment of the tailored suit.

The blouse can completely change the whole look of a costume, giving it an entirely different appearance according to whether it is of lingerie, or silk, of light color or a dark one.

The lingerie blouse is generally of "chemise" cut trimmed with small pleats, open stitches or pipings. A certain amount of fancy is allowed. There may be a stiff collar or a deep V-opening. Long sleeves are ornamental at the wrists with buttons, pleats or nervures.

Blouses in crepe de Chine or tulle are soft in line, with the collar often becoming a simple scarf knotted at the shoulder and the draped belt matching it tied in a bow at the side. One in tulle-blue is very attractive trimmed with pleats and strips of stitching somewhat darker than the material of the blouse.

The blouse which is patterned is often seen this spring with a plain ensemble, giving a bit of brilliancy to the extremely modest costume. Perhaps the most frequent patterns are stripes with polka-dots.

Didn't Chop Wood In Day He Was Ruler

Metz, May 9.—Here's proof that ex-Kaiser Wilhelm never did any wood chopping when, as Emperor of Germany, he lived at the Chateau d'Urville, near here, which reverted to France with Lorraine.

Maitre Verlet, Parisian lawyer, recently took a lease on the chateau. The heavily-wooded park around it seemed too thick for his fancy so he ordered foresters to cut away several trees.

Shakespeare was the son of a butcher and worked for a time in his father's shop.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliff

She Describes a Tweed Suit in a Letter to Pam.

I HAVE copied into my diary the following letter:

DEAR PAM:

In answer to your letter, I'm sending a sketch of a new suit which I think you'll like a lot, and I hope it doesn't arrive too late. I've been meaning and meaning to write you, but there hasn't been a moment. Actually, aside from my regular activities at the shop, I've been covering fashion shows for Madame, conferring with our Paris designer, who is here on a short visit, and being so busy that I haven't had a moment.

The model from which the accompanying drawing was sketched is in lavender, but if you prefer another shade you'll find many of the new materials in attractive greens and beige and rose. You may make the coat three-quarter or seven-eighths length—preferably, I think, seven-eighths, which permits you to use it with another costume if you wish. You won't have any difficulty fitting this coat—saddle sleeves are always easily managed.

The skirt is a simple affair, with pointed yoke holding together one kink pleat in front.

With this suit a felt hat of half-buff or bangkok may be worn. The trimless models are to my way of thinking a little too dressy for a suit of this kind.

Have you seen the new "coiffure hats"? They fit with the snugness of a bathing cap and are as unadorned. They're worn with full veils, or the tiny ones that just cover the eyes.

If you don't care for the accompanying sketch, let me know and I'll find something else for you.

Sincerely, GRACE.

Street Attire of Lavender Tweed and Crepe.

Washington—The federal bureau of education estimates there are more college students in the United States than in all other countries combined. Its figures place the American total at approximately one million and give the rest of the world 950,000. American students of high school rank were estimated to number 4,200,000 as compared with 5,700,000 for the other countries.

Trapped by her past!

"I had just started to re-note my make-up when a note was handed to me. I usually paid little attention to them, but glancing at this one, the name at the bottom caught my eye, and the lights danced dizzily before me." (From "Trapped by My Past," June True Story Magazine.)

RECENTLY a woman who a few years ago was a popular actress on Broadway, whose name was emblazoned in electric lights, submitted a story to True Story Magazine which created a stir even among the editors long used to reading startling and unusual stories.

It was the account of why she left the stage abruptly at the height of her career never to be seen upon the boards again.

It was a tale of dread and terror which told how each night, while she swayed her thousands to smiles or tears, her eyes, masking the agony in her soul, were seeking, always seeking, among the audience the one man in all the world who had it in his power to drag her down from the pinnacle of success to the ignominy of defeat.

Deep in her heart she knew that some day he would come, and that when he did her career would end.

And so when one night an usher delivered to her dressing room a note from a man in the audience who was waiting for her reply, she knew that at last the time had come to settle her account with fate.

Her story appears in True Story for June under the title "Trapped by My Past." Told in her own words, with nothing hidden, nothing omitted and without excuse, into it she has put all the fire and drama that perhaps once held you spellbound across the footlights.

It may be that when you read it you will recognize her. If so, you will know the answer to a question you have probably asked yourself many times.

On Monday evening the annual inspection of Leetonia chapter No. 253 Order of the Eastern Star was held. ## WESTERN JAILS CURB RIGHTS OF PRISON AUTHORS

Lively Discussion Result Of Board's Orders To Stop Scribbling

Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Should inmates of California prisons be allowed to write for publication in the great world without?

Or should they be restrained from all literary endeavor on the grounds that such a restriction is part of the penalty for their crimes?

Lively discussion of these questions was aroused in Los Angeles as a result of the action of the California prison board in ordering a halt on all writing by prisoners for publication on the grounds that the board is "running prisons and not literary bureaus."

Los Angeles writers declared works of English literature might never have been written if prisoners were not allowed to write. They cite these instances:

Daniel DeFoe wrote "Robinson Crusoe" in prison.

John Bunyan wrote "Pilgrim's Progress" in prison at Bedford, Eng., during the 17th century.

Oscar Wilde's Books

Oscar Wilde wrote "Ballad of Reading Gaol," a poem of a prison experience, and "De Profundis" while a prisoner.

O. Henry, one of the great writers of the present age, was in prison and some of his masterful letters to his daughter during the period of his imprisonment remain a part of his contributions to literature.

Sir Walter Raleigh wrote a complete history of the world in prison.

Francois Villon, the immortal "Vagabond Poet," wrote most of his great poems in prison.

And Francis Scott Key wrote the United States national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," while in a prison cell.

Eugene Biscailuz, under-sheriff of Los Angeles county, was one of those most emphatic in his opinion that the state prison board is right in curtailing the literary endeavors of the men in prison cells.

"After all," he said, "our penitentiaries are penitentiaries. Criminals are sent there to pay their debt to society. They are no longer citizens."

Arrayed against under-sheriff Biscailuz' opinion, however, is that of Jim Tully, hobo-novelist, of note and writer on prison reform, who said:

"The prison boards ruling, as I interpret it, is one of the most drastic ever imposed on a semi-civilized community. One would have to return to the dark ages to find anything to compare with it."

"I can see the justice of imprisoning men for his transgressions for the protection of society, but no one has the right to imprison his soul."

Stops All Writing

Frank Dewar, chief jailer at the Los Angeles county jail said:

"I have put a stop to all writing in the Los Angeles county jail and expect to keep a stop on it. We give every prisoner his full jail rights, but treat him as a criminal and not as the victim of circumstances."

Ray Long, president and editor in chief of the International Magazine Company, declared he recently read a manuscript sent to him by a noted California convict author and that the article was well written, but had been rejected because "it would not be good taste to publish many of the manuscripts offered by prison authors."

Monta Bell, film director and author said he was not in favor of convicts being restrained entirely from writing, but thought it was improper to allow them to write articles criticizing prison administration.

"If Daniel DeFoe had not been allowed to write while in prison we would not have had his immortal 'Robinson Crusoe,' a story which often is termed 'the father of English fiction.'"

Corns Lift Right Off!

Hard corn, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off! You'll laugh—it is so easy and does not hurt a bit!

Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic!

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

MODERN FLATS DRIVE MANSIONS OFF PARK LANE

Fashionable thoroughfare Of London Undergoing Many Changes

London, May 9.—Lovers of old London are fearful that Park Lane, its most beautiful thoroughfare which for years has boasted the stateliest town mansions in England, is doomed to destruction.

Like its western sister, New York's Fifth avenue, Park Lane is undergoing the changes that the passage of time bring. One by one the beautiful mansions are disappearing, and in their stead are rising apartment houses of the New York variety—scuffed at by the die-hards—but better suited to the conditions of the present day.

The first to go was Grosvenor House, situated in a commanding position on Park Lane, directly overlooking Hyde park. The stately house was sold, its interiors removed and the building demolished. For a short while there was a strange gap in the graceful skyline and then slowly there arose a gigantic structure of red brick.

Modern Flats

"Grosvenor House," the signs outside displayed, "Modern service flats—all latest improvements." Members of the old Guard shook their heads. This, they feared—was the beginning Park Lane had sung its swan song. High taxes, cumbersome assessments, those twin curses on the heads of the wealthy, had struck their blow at last, and one had capitulated to the admission that he could no longer afford the luxury of a town house on Park Lane.

A few months later came an even bigger surprise. Dorchester House, the finest mansion in London, where Whitelaw Reid lived for 14 years when ambassador to the court of St. James, was sold to a syndicate for a price in excess of $2,500,000. The news was received with universal regret, for the contract states that the palatial mansion where Reid had entertained King Edward VII and many of England's greatest noblemen, would be torn down to make room for an apartment hotel.

Up To Date Hotel

Dorchester House is still standing, but preparations have been completed for its demolition. The architects of the proposed hotel are planning to incorporate its priceless murals and wainscoting in the new structure, and every possible feature of the old house will be retained. But it will not look like Dorchester House, for it will be a "modern hotel," with all the improvements and alterations that go with it.

The indications are that the large houses of Park Lane will go one by one, just as the Fifth avenue mansions have disappeared to make room for modern buildings. It is hoped, however, that business structures will not be erected on Park Lane, but that the famous thoroughfare will be restricted to residences—even though they be multifamily apartment houses instead of the proud mansions that once held full sway.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy, its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous gripping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

NEW WATERFORD

The final event of the school year was the alumni meeting at Peace Valley Saturday night when the banquet was served to 105 members and their guests. Representatives of several classes welcomed the new nine members and the response was given by Arthur Strong, president of the class.

Officers elected are Sylvanus Lower, president; Ralph Eyster, vice president; and Lois Merriman, secretary-treasurer. Following the business session a social time and dance was held, the James orchestra of East Palestine playing.

Wednesday night, the class play was given before a large audience. A school picnic was held at Peace Valley on Friday, attended by a large crowd and featured by a basketball dinner at noon and a ball game in the afternoon.

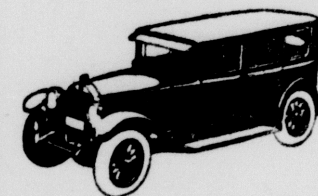

Commencement was held Friday night. Dr. Isaac Headland of Mt. Union was the speaker.

Do you buy advertised goods?

Of course you do; every body does. Just run over in your mind the various articles that you have purchased in the last week or the last month. How about foods? Your breakfast fruits, cereals and bacon are all advertised. Probably that is how you first come to know of them through advertising. Probably the shoes you are wearing, or the dress or suit you have on are equally well-known advertised makes, and you are proud of them.

In the home. On the floor are rugs and linoleum—the better wearing kinds are extensively advertised. What about the kitchen? Aluminum ware, gas ranges, hot water heaters, dish and clothes washers, cooking utensils of all kinds—practically everything you use is advertised. You buy advertised products because you have confidence in them. You know that a manufacturer cannot afford to advertise shoddy or unworthy merchandise.

Advertising is one form of insurance. It gives you a feeling of perfect confidence and safety when you ask for an advertised brand, for you know that you will get the quality and service you expect. The name is the guarantee.

The more you read advertising the more you will know about human progress. You will become well posted in almost every line of human endeavor and a canny judge of values. Reading advertisements is a fine habit. Cultivate it.

Read the advertisements and buy advertised goods.
They are the safest investment.
